Koleksiyon

On the Asian side of Istanbul, in the town of Tulza, the staff at Piri Reis Maritime University help students to find their sea legs. A favourite spot for staff and students alike is the campus library, which local office Kreatif Architects has furnished with the creations of another local outfit, Koleksiyon. The library's scholastic sphere is anything but musty and boring, thanks to the buoyancy created by Koleksiyon's colourful Dilim seating. In the adjacent study area, rather than falling asleep at old-fashioned steel-framed office furniture, users are enjoying modern Partita desks whose X-legged wooden bases have a warm, friendly look. Spreading a lucid design language across the campus, from classroom to simulation pool, furnishings by Koleksiyon invigorate an environment for geeks, sea dogs and others with a yearning for the briny deep.

Koleksiyon's designs are on the same wavelength as the vision that Kreatif Architects has for the Piri Reis University in Tulza.
